

Advisory Work Group

On May 8, 2007, the Project Work Group (PWG) voted to incorporate the technical group with the PWG, and to add representatives for Wrangell, Kake, Prince of Wales Island, and southern SE Alaska power and transmission interests.

The purpose of this effort is to facilitate the development of the Southeast electrical intertie through the development of the Alcan intertie for energy export. The export of energy through the Alcan intertie will enable the completion of interties throughout Southeast Alaska including completion of the Swan-Tyee connection. Energy export could lead to the development of a number of hydro-electric projects in many locations in Southeast Alaska meeting domestic power needs and providing a surplus for export. The goal is to provide the energy needed for economic development in Southeast Alaska resulting in jobs for Alaskans and providing reliable, less costly alternatives to diesel generated electricity for Alaskan communities.
